Although no definite determination has been reached intimations are made that the situation may not permit of indefinite delay, as President Castro's inaction, amounting to a refusal to withdraw his offensive action, may lead French public opinion to require the government to adopt more decisive measures to redress the offense.

NO MATCH FOR WIFE.

Mr. Hepburn Out-Debated in Views on Philippines.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 14.—Novelty, in the form of a joint debate, was added to the golden wedding anniversary of Congressman S. W. P. Hepburn at Clarinda Wednesday night. Mr. and Mrs. Hepburn discussed the Philippine question before their guests.

Mr. Hepburn, who is chairman of the ways and means committee, and accounted one of the strongest debaters in the House, proved no match for his wife. He had the opening argument, saying that his good wife and he were glad to get back from the Philippines. He regretted that he had been disappointed in the degree of intelligence that their limitation rendered them incapable of self-government.

Then Mrs. Hepburn took the floor. "Mr. Hepburn has told you," she said, "that the Filipinos are incapable of intellectual development beyond a certain point. We were told that in the Philippines, but I took occasion to study the matter myself, and find that, in view of the fact that they have had the advantage of American instruction for only seven years, they have made remarkable progress. I am convinced that they are not only capable of thorough education, but of good citizenship as well."

RAT TRAP IN HIS POCKET.

Court Rules That a Husband May Carry One if He Wishes.

Buffalo, Oct. 14.—A husband has a right to keep a rat trap in his trousers pocket, according to a ruling made here by Police Justice Rochford.

Justice Rochford ruled that Schultz could keep a rat trap in every one of his pockets to protect his money if he wished to do so, and discharged the prisoner.

OFFICERS TOO OLD.

Dewey Says Navy Should Be Led by Younger Men.

Washington, Oct. 14.—Admiral Dewey is quoted here as saying that the officers of the American navy above the rank of lieutenant are, as a rule, too old for the grades they occupy. The admiral said:

"The nation will assuredly meet with disaster in a naval war unless younger men are given command of the ships of our navy."

"Continuing the older men in command of the ships of the navy would be a certain menace to the country. In the event of a war, we should see, in all probability, a repetition of the deplorable events which occurred in the first year or two of the Civil War. Old men, for the most part, were in command of the Federal ships when hostilities between the North and South broke out."

"The officers then were older by the way, than those who are now in command in our navy. You remember that disaster followed disaster, and it was not until younger men were placed in command of our fighting vessels that victories succeeded reverses. And the change in the fortunes of war on the water did not come until Congress had passed the act which placed naval officers who had reached the age of 62 years on the retired list."

"In the recent war in the Far East all the officers in the Japanese navy, from the admiral down were in the prime of life."

"Understand that in no sense do I mean to criticize the officers who are in command or have commanded our war vessels so splendidly. But I know from experience that in the stress of war we must have younger men to direct the fighting aboard the ships. You see I can say all this because I am old myself."
